

Victor Claud

Currently in my 2nd year of technology and makerspace, I am having a ball teaching at JMCA. Believer in second chances. I place my home and school families at the center of life, and feel grateful each day I can call myself a husband, father, and teacher. I believe that teaching is all about giving birth to dreams and possibilities. Cowboys football, Texas Rangers baseball, and small town life are all things that help me be grounded.
